

FORS

explore.understand.share.

Sharing personal data through a data repository

Pablo Diaz, Brian Kleiner and Alexandra Stam, FORS data archive
November 28th, 2023

Who we are

UNIL | Université de Lausanne

explore.understand.share.

Pablo Diaz
Ethics officer (UNIL)
Strategic and applied support for research ethics

Brian Kleiner
Head of Unit
Data Services

Alexandra Stam
Head of Group DMS
Data Management &
Promotion of Data Sharing

Outline

1. A few words about FORS and its services
2. Defining personal and sensitive data
3. Some legal considerations when it comes to sharing data through a data repository
4. Data anonymisation
5. Access control to personal data
6. Presentation of DataGo

A few words about FORS and its services

Swiss Centre of Expertise in the Social Sciences

FORS⁺

explore.understand.share.

PROJECTS

DATA SERVICES

TOPICS

PUBLICATIONS

EVENTS & TRAINING

ABOUT FORS

FORS IS THE SWISS CENTRE
OF EXPERTISE IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES.

We produce survey data for national and international surveys.

We provide tools for the information infrastructure in Switzerland and abroad.

We offer consulting services for social science researchers.

We do thematic and methodological research in empirical social sciences.

FIND & DEPOSIT DATA

STAFF

OPEN POSITIONS

FORS⁺

What we do

Infrastructure

Project catalogue, data archiving and dissemination service, support

Data Production

National (SHP, Selects) and international surveys (ESS, MOSAiCH-ISSP, SHARE, EVS)

Research

Thematic, methodological, and epistemological research

Collaboration

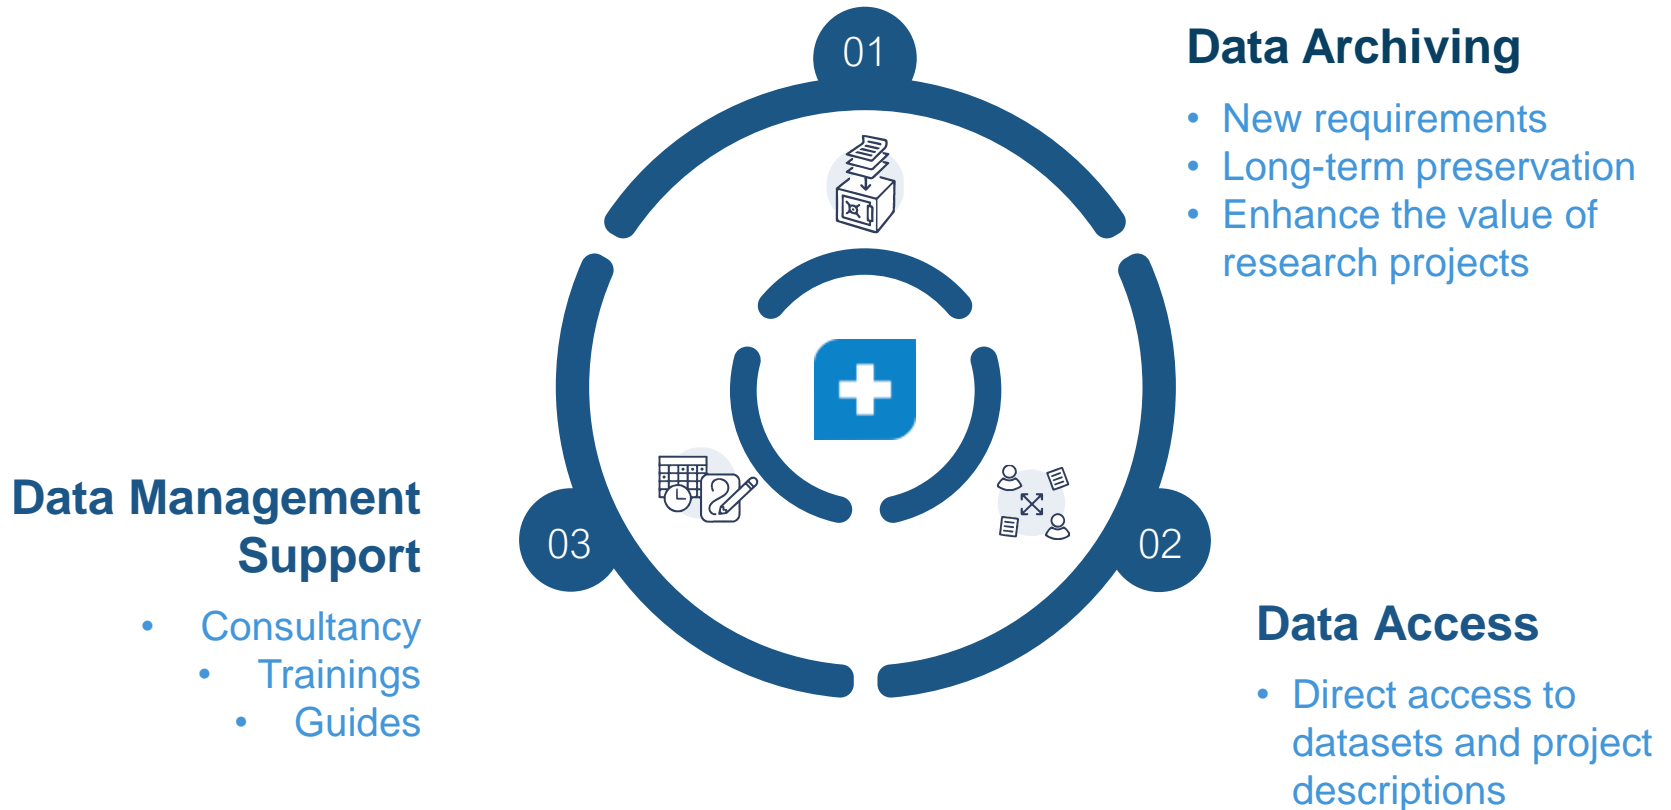

At the national and international level, in all our active domains

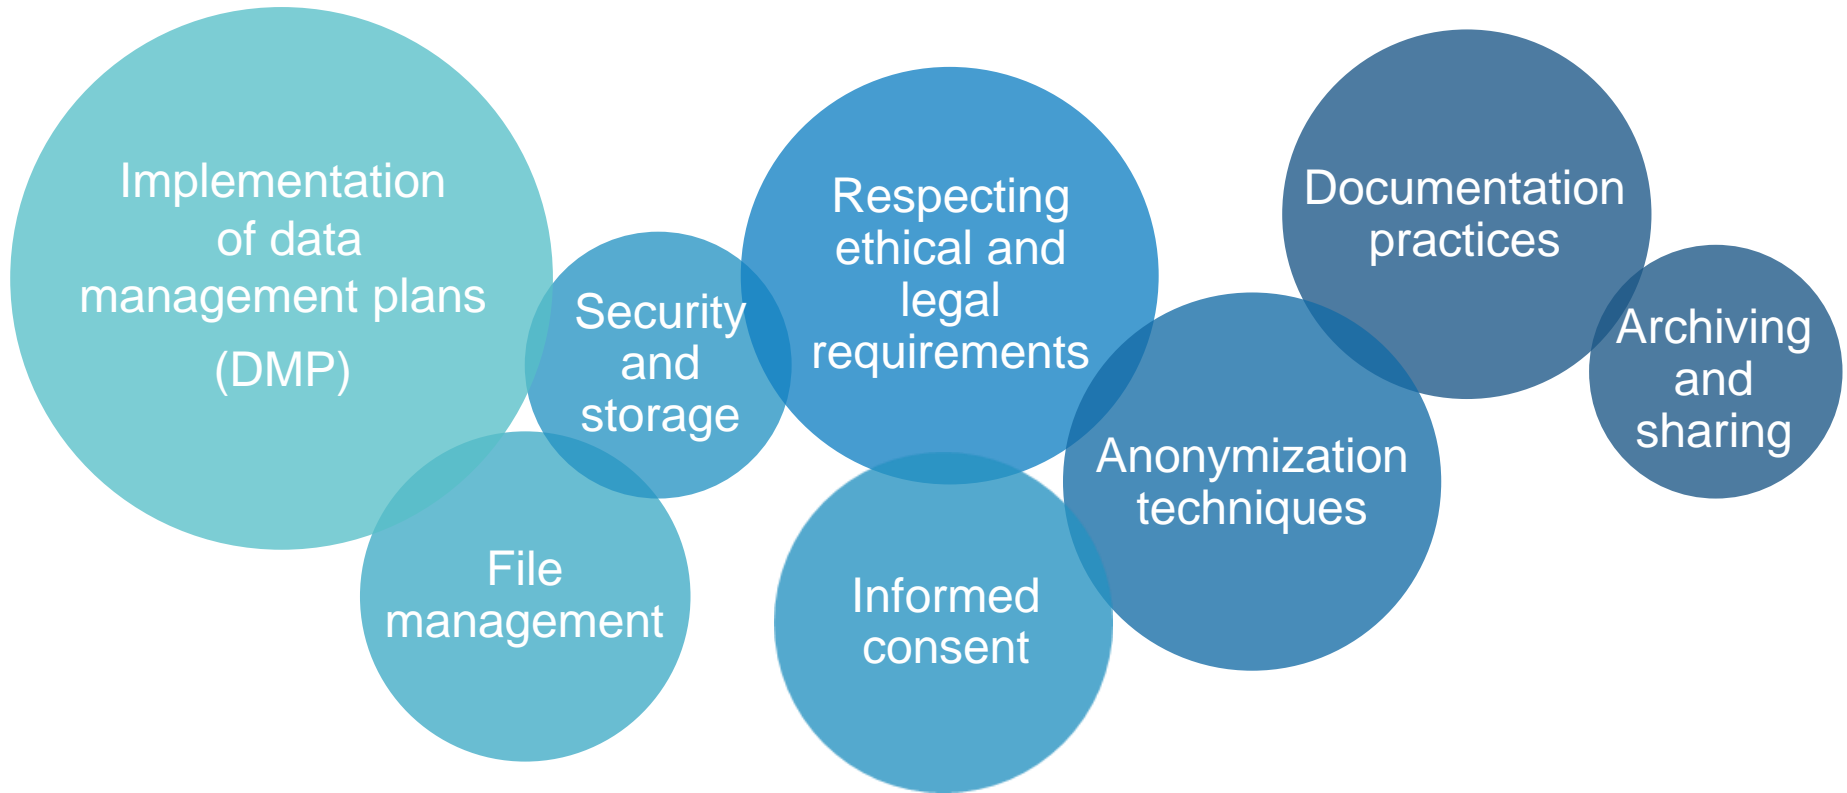

Development

Cutting-edge tools, data collection, and data linking

FORS Data Services

Data management support

Repository for the social sciences

